Key Customers

The Prometheus Platform

Software Training Trends

- Coordinating an on-site or remote dedicated training is difficult, costly
  - Plant emergencies, scheduling conflicts, and knowledge retention prevents students from getting the most out of an initial engagement
- 40% of Fortune 500 companies use some form of remote electronic learning today
- Roles are constantly shifting but sustained software training does not keep up
- Number of people retiring outnumber people entering workforce

Prometheus eLearning

PROMETHEUS GROUP

Observed Benefits of eLearning

- Self-paced learning improves user experience and knowledge retention
- Easily and quickly addresses role transfers and new hires
- Enables quicker, more effective UAT
- Updated with the solutions
- Traceable progress and grades ensure management transparency
- Reduces expense of traditional training (travel, resources, time away from work)
- Increases ROI when on-site or remote consultant training occurs

Demonstration

Customer User Case: Food & Bev

- Planning & Scheduling implementation
- Took courses weeks before implementation began
- Leaned on eLearning to guide their User Acceptance Testing
- Began seeing improvements in processes in production environment on day 1 of Prometheus-led live training after eLearning

Customer User Case: Chemical

- Permitting & Safety Implementation
- Very specific EHS regulations in their industry
- Created tailored eLearning course in their system
  - Agreed on course framework
  - Gained access and generated lessons in their system
  - Set up “staging” site for key users to verify and provide feedback
  - Two-way communication ensured project success
